Dear Colleague,

Do you like drinking wine? Have you ever thought about making wine? Opening your own winery? Planting a vineyard? Do you think it's impossible to start a winery or vineyard while pursuing your legal career? Let me show you how.

I am the owner/winemaker of Wilridge Winery, an award-winning winery located in Seattle, Washington. What's more, I am a shareholder at Heller Ehrman, one of the 50 largest law firms in the United States. I started Wilridge Winery over 15 years ago while I was a young associate. I built the winery from the ground up, produced wines rated over 90 points and made a profit, all while also practicing law and making partner at Heller Ehrman. And I have had lots of fun doing it.

Please join me and my friend Corbin Houchins for a one-day Seminar on everything a lawyer needs to know about wine, winemaking, growing grapes, starting a winery, and selling wine while also maintaining a successful legal career. You will leave the Seminar with the knowledge needed to make wine this year and even start your own bonded winery. I will tell you the secrets of the wine business and we will taste some great wine, too.

I look forward to spending the day with you.

Sincerely,

Paul Beveridge, Esq.

Owner/Winemaker—Wilridge Winery
Co-Founder—Wines of Washington Tasting Room
Shareholder—Heller Ehrman, LLP, Seattle

Paul Beveridge started Wilridge Winery in 1988. His winery is best known for producing award-winning single vineyard wines from grapes grown at premier locations in Washington State. Current production is limited to Cabernet Sauvignon, Merlot, Syrah, Nebbiolo, Semillon, Pinot Grigio and Viognier. His wines have received multiple medals and high ratings from wine publications.

In 2002, Paul conceived and co-founded the Wines of Washington Tasting Room in Seattle's famous Pike Place Market. His Tasting Room was the first cooperative wine tasting cellar in Washington State. It features over seventy wines from seven boutique wineries, including Wilridge. He is also a board member of the Washington Wine Institute, the Washington State wine industry trade association.

Paul is a shareholder at Heller Ehrman LLP, where he practices a wide variety of regulatory law, including representation of winery and brewery clients in matters of business start up, regulatory compliance, labeling, legislation, trademark and litigation. Paul is a member of Heller Ehrman's "Wine Team," which represents large and small wineries in the United States. Heller Ehrman wrote the successful brief for WineAmerica and the Coalition for Free Trade in the recent Supreme Court case, Granholm v. Heald.

Corbin Houchins is senior beverage counsel at Graham & Dunn, and is an oft-quoted analyst of the Granholm and Costco cases. His practice emphasizes the production, distribution, and sale of licensed beverages and protection of licensed beverage trademarks. Before entering private practice, Mr. Houchins held corporate counsel positions at E & J Gallo Winery and Olympia Brewing Company, with responsibility for legal aspects of distributor relations. He is the author of numerous articles on licensed beverage law, antitrust, intellectual property and distribution law, and is a frequent presenter at CLE programs on licensed beverage distribution.
