Dear Colleague,

Do you like drinking wine? Have you ever thought about making wine? Opening your own winery? Planting a vineyard? Representing winery clients? Do you think it's impossible to start a winery or vineyard while pursuing your legal career? Let me show you how.

I am the owner/winemaker of Wilridge Winery, an award-winning winery located in Seattle, Washington. What's more, I am a shareholder at Heller Ehrman, one of the 50 largest law firms in the United States. I started Wilridge Winery over 15 years ago while I was a young associate. I built the winery from the ground up, produced wines rated over 90 points and made a profit, all while also practicing law and making partner at Heller Ehrman. And I have had lots of fun doing it.

Please join me and my colleague Richard Blau of GrayRobinson for a one-day Seminar on everything a lawyer needs to know about wine, winemaking, growing grapes, starting a winery, and selling wine while also maintaining a successful legal career. You will leave the Seminar with the knowledge needed to make wine, start a bonded winery and represent winery clients. I will tell you the secrets of the wine business and we will taste some great wine, too.

I look forward to spending the day with you.

Sincerely,

Paul Beveridge, Esq.

Owner/Winemaker—Wilridge Winery
Co-Founder—Wines of Washington Tasting Room

Paul Beveridge started Wilridge Winery in 1988. His winery is best known for producing award-winning single vineyard wines from grapes grown at premier locations in Washington State. Current production is limited to Cabernet Sauvignon, Merlot, Syrah, Nebbiolo, Semillon, Pinot Grigio and Viognier. His wines have received multiple medals and high ratings from wine publications.

In 2002, Paul conceived and co-founded the Wines of Washington Tasting Room in Seattle's famous Pike Place Market. His Tasting Room was the first cooperative wine tasting cellar in Washington State. It features over seventy wines from seven boutique wineries, including Wilridge. He is also a board member of the Washington Wine Institute, the Washington State wine industry trade association.

Paul is a shareholder at Heller Ehrman LLP, where he practices a wide variety of regulatory law, including representation of winery and brewery clients in matters of business start up, regulatory compliance, labeling, legislation, trademark and litigation. Paul is a member of Heller Ehrman's "Wine Team," which represents large and small wineries in the United States. Heller Ehrman wrote the successful brief for WineAmerica and the Coalition for Free Trade in the recent Supreme Court case, Granholm v. Heald.

Richard M. Blau serves as Chair of the ABA's Committee on Beverage Alcohol Practice. He also presides over his firm's Alcohol Beverage and Food Department, focusing on the rules, regulations, and business practices that govern the marketing, sale and consumption of distilled spirits, wine, beer, and other licensed beverages. He has litigated jury and bench trials in state and federal courts, including Geary Distributing Company v. All Brand Importers, Inc., cert. denied, and Jim Taylor Corporation v. Guinness Import Company. For the past ten years, he has edited the nationwide Survey of Reported Judicial Decisions Addressing the 21st Amendment and Related Alcohol Laws for the ABA and the National Conference of State Liquor Administrators, where he is an Industry Member.
